Venice approves bids for sewer repairs

By Scott Cousins Staff writer

Bids for sewer repairs totaling $359,000 were approved by the Venice City Council at Tuesday's meeting.

Bids for sewer repairs totaling $559,000 were approved by the Venice City Council at Tuesday's meeting.

Two separate bids for the actual work — one from Kellor Construction for $158,270 and one start that the construction for $158,000 and one $128,046.50 — were accreted.

The bids are for repair work at about a dozen sites throughout the city. The damagewas caused by high water tables during flooding in 1983. Is being paid by the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

The city's $90,000 share is being paid with a low-interest loan through Madison County Community Development.

In other business, Alderman-Victor Valentine said there were a number of derelict houses on with the construction of the c aid. Iderman Henry Fletcher also complained ut churches using the senior center for gious services.

Our city is looking deplorable on the north side and we need some of those houses down.

At a recent meeting, the council approved allowing a church to rent the center on Sunday mornings after their building was burned. Fletcher said he didn't like ministers coming in to Venice to start churches after they had been "kicked out" of other places. Mayor Tyrone Echols argued that the building was there to be used.

"How can you stop them from renting the building when the building is there to be rented?" he said. "Your point is well taken, but I know how you feel about preachers." The council also heard a proposal from Tom Jackson of the Dover Elevator Co. for a service agreement on the city hall elevator. The elevator was built last year with community development funds. The community development funds review agreement is $127 per month, and includes at least nine service calls for inspection and other work. Echols said he would look over the proposal.

The future of National City is up in the air as a result of a flight between National Stockyards Co. and village residents. This view is looking north along Illinois 3 at the southern edge of the town.

In March, a fire destroyed the entire city hall, including the fire department and police station.

In March, a fire destroyed the entire city hall, including the fire department and police station.

All residents of National City rent homes from the stockyards, which is responsible for nearly all of the village's property taxes, one of the highest tax rates in the state. Stockyard officials want to annex into another municipality where the tax rate would be lower and the tax burden would not rest nearly entirely on the stockyard. City have made moves toward taking over the village.

The lawsuit filed last week on behalf of the residents also-claims that for years the stockyards coerced residents to vote for company employees to hold office in local government.

Unauthorized work continues Ponton Beach officials said they had little choice but to allow concrete work to continue to repair a substandard street even though the contractor or developer had failed to obtain approval.

Work on the repairs to the street in Chouteau Trace subdivision was halted after village officials heard about it, but allowed to resume after an emergency board meeting.

Party omission intentional
Jim Mihalich, a candidate for state representative, admits that he left his party affiliation off a flier promoting a fund raiser in Granite City.
A Republican challenging incumbent Steve Davis, Mihalich said that he needed to capture the votes of crossover Democrats to have a chance to defeat Davis in November.

Drug store shuts doors

Phil Steridan Jr. closed the door on his neighborhood drug store for the last time last week.

Sheridan Drug Store had operated at the corner of 23rd and State streets for more than 65 years. Sheridan, 70, had worked at the store since his high school days. He and his wife plan to travel in retirement.

The store is being purchased by Lenny Revelle, who will deal in home medical supplies.

Pontoon OKs deficit budget

A budget of $2.34 million for the 1996-1997 fiscal year was approved by Pontoon Beach trustees at a special meeting last week

The budget includes a projected deficit of $217,758.25.

Spending for this fiscal year, which began May I, is projected to be $178,750 — or about 1.2 percent — higher than last year. Most of the increase is in the general fund, which pays for most of the village's day-to-day expenses.

The general fund budget increased to about $1.9 million from

Explosion rocks plant
A faulty water tap is being blamed for an early-morning explosion in a blast furnace at the Granite City Division of National Steel Corp. over the weekend.

Nobody was injured and damage was minor, but the blast furnace will be shut down for several weeks while repairs are being made, company spokesman Bob Maxwell said Monday.

The explosion happened at about 5:30 a.m. Saturday in the B blast furnace, located off Edwardsville Road.

Caring and sharing

Program provides clothes for youngsters

For most children, August is a time to get in those last days of carefree play and plan for the coming school year. Buying new clothes is often a part of that planning.

But the start of school can be difficult.
For almost 10 years, the Protestant Welfare Association's Community Care Center's Back-to-School Care and Share program has been providing area students with new clothes and a title self estem.

325 children will be served this year.

"There are many children that need clothing to go back to school," she said. "New clothing helps them to have self esteern."

Volunteers spent two days preparing the clothes for the program — and most of the year looking for the items.

"They're finding what they want," she said of the children. "It's a great program: it gives kids who are needy a chance to have some new lone Granite City mother brought in five of her seven children, ages six to 15.

"It's pretty good for people who need it," she said of the program. "I've been raised here in Granite all my life, and I know this place is here for people who need it."

She said the program was very important.

"When people don't have a place to live or have a way to get food or clothing, just thank the Lord there's a place like this to help people out," she said.
Another woman brought her nine children for clothes.
"This is really beautiful," she said. "It's very nice for them to do this for the children."

We have a continuing debate in our office over what are the better pets, dogs or cats.

Yes, it's silly, but we have to find the carbone ways to kill the lime.

I come from a family of dog lovers. I can't recall anyone in the Carbery clan ever having a kitty, but we've had many, many dogs. I remember my dogs Bridey, Shannon, Robrea and Butch, and the carbone and Butch, and the carbone and casey and my uncles' dogs. I have fond memories of each of the family pets that has passed away and I love the ones I have now, Roste and Scarlet.

Sam, who doesn't have too much crime-busting to do in the sleepy town, resolves to investigate by searching out old files and interviewing anyone he can find who was around in "the old days."

The 40-year-old murder mystery implicates several people in town and fuels Sam's fears that the triggerman may actually have been his father.

The unusually good ensemble cast also features Delmore Payne (Joe Morton), a black colonel who immerses a way of distancing himself from his bar owner father Otis (Roy Canada).

"You have to be careful where you go poking around," one of the townspeople warns. "Who knows what you'll find." Indeed, digging around in the Texas dirt, Sam finally learns much about the past, and not just who shot Charley Warde.

Sales Help ARE YOU LIKE ME?

ARE YOU LIKE ME?
I work between 40 and 44 hours per week. I really like people and get a lot of satisfaction by knowing that I can help them make their home a more comfortable place to live. I work in a well displayed showroom with a large product selection and presently earn between $1,500 and $2,000 per month.
And, I'm not the highest paid salesperson in the company.
If this sounds like you, we should talk. If this sounds like you, we should talk.

M Raise Your Hand Against Water Pollution

in the trash, poured down the drain and put on the ground have taught us costly lessons about water pollution. It is far more expensive to clean water than to protect if from pollution. Now that we know, we need to exercise more care with water. The best way to do that is to exercise your Blue Thumb.

water. The best way to do that is to exercise your Blue Thumb.

A Blue Thumb is to water what a green thumb is to plants. Both are about having a hand in making something better.

Start by putting used and lefrover hazardous household products in a box in your garage or basement. When the box is full, take it to a hazardous waste collection center. Potential polluters include: batteries, motor oil, paint stripper, bug sprays, paints, solvents and certain household cleaners. More than one million tons or about 1 billion kilograms of hazardous waste from products used around the house enter the water each year in North America. In addition to taking this toxic waste to a collection center, exercise your Blue Thumb to reduce your use of these products and purchase water-safe alternatives.

Drinking Water Week is May 5-11.

Also exercise your BT to use lawn and garden fertilizers and pesticides sparingly. Pesticides are a leading contaminant of water. North Americans uses for commercial, agricultural and residential purposes more than $500,000 tons or $450 million kilograms a year. Flex your Blue Thumb to find water-safe methods to control pests. For example, geraniums repel Japhanes beetles, garlic and minrepel aphids and marigolds repel white files.

Stretch your Blue Thumb to use rechargeable batteries. Batteries can leach toxic metals including lead, mercury and cadmium into water. Buy phosphate-free detergents. Phosphates increase algae growth and deplete the amount of oxygen in our lakes, rivers and streams. If you have an underground storage tank on your property, replace it with above ground storage.

And support the preservation of wetland areas because they help maintain clean water.

maintain clean water.
The more you exectise your Blue Thumb, the stronger it becomes. And the strength of your BT means a lot for the fitness of water.

Blue Planet Needs Blue Thumbs

It's not easy being blue.

Although 70 percent of planet Earth is water — making it look blue from outer space — only about one percent is available for drinking, cooking and the million other uses we put it to everyday. Because our demand for water continues to grow, but our supplies don't, everyone needs to lend a hand to keep our water resources fit and healthy.

A Blue Thumb is to water what a green thumb is to plants. Both are about having a hand in making something better.

There are three areas to exercise care — conserving, protecting and getting involved. Start by turning off the tap in the bathroom when you brush your teeth or shave, and in the kitchen when cleaning fruits and vegetables. You'll save five U.S. gallons or 19 liters of water for every minute you don't let the water run. Did you know that what you pour down the drain, put on the ground and toss in the trash can pollute the water? And non-point source pollution — that's agricultural and urban runoff and residential pollution — threatens our water resources more than industry. Exercise your Blue Thumb by taking polluters like dead batteries, used motor oil, leftover paint and bug sprays to collection and recycling centers.

Did you know that even though there are federal regulations governing our water resources, many important decisions need to be made at the state and local levels? In many cases, it is the grassroots efforts of individuals that make a real difference. Exercise your Blue Thumb to learn the water issues in your area. Attend a municipal water board or city planning meeting. And write water board or city planning meeting. And write a letter to local elected officials urging more
